Your responsibilities

Thank you, someone.

There are a few things you need to know and do before your application to Universal Credit is complete.

It's important that you understand that in return for your Universal Credit payment you're agreeing to look for extra work.

You'll need to do everything you reasonably can to increase your earnings. Your work coach will help you agree your commitments.

Your partner will need to agree their own commitments.

☐ I understand these commitments
